Drs. Karen Marzlin and Cynthia Webner are known for their cardiovascular expertise, passion for excellence, and engaging teaching style. Teaching nationally for over 15 years, Karen and Cindy, have presented more than 1,200 programs in the past 10 years. Both have presented annually, since 2005, at the American Association of Critical Care Nurses National Teaching Institute (NTI). They are again presenting at NTI in May of 2019.

They have a combined 71 years of nursing experience including point of care nursing and advanced practice. Their specialized experiences include inpatient cardiovascular and critical care, post cardiac arrest care, advanced heart failure, nephrology, and diabetes management. In addition to their clinical practice they are adjunct faculty for the Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Program at Malone University in Canton, Ohio.

Karen and Cindy also own two businesses producing educational classes and products to help nurses in every role excel. They believe nursing knowledge is central to the improved health of our patients and our systems of care.

These educators are committed to helping you achieve your professional education and certification goals. Karen and Cindy believe that understanding is the key to critical thinking and clinical decision making. With a passion for clinical practice they understand the difference your nursing care makes in the lives of patients and their families. They will share knowledge and skills that will equip you to take your practice to the next level and impact the outcomes of the patients you care for. Karen and Cindy combine humor, energy, and creative teaching strategies to make this course a memorable learning experience.
