Drs. Karen Marzlin and Cynthia Webner have a combined 70 years of nursing experience in critical care and cardiovascular care. As acute care clinical nurse specialists and acute care nurse practitioners they have managed adult and gerontologic patients with acute illness in the presence of complex comorbid conditions. Nationally recognized speakers, Karen and Cindy have presented more than 1200 programs in the past 10 year including certification review courses. Recognized for their expertise, ability to deliver certification material in a meaningful way, and high certification success rates, they are frequently invited back for repeat programs for additional staff. They have been presenters at AACNs National Teaching institute annually since 2005. Karen and Cindy are passionate about the role of the APRN and are excited to help their future colleagues successfully achieve certification. Their presentations are action packed, engaging and presented with a passion for excellence.

Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Adult Gerontology Certification Review Course

As you prepare for nurse practitioner certification, you need a course that will give you the knowledge, skill, and confidence needed for certification success. There is a vast amount of information you are responsible to know and you need to learn this information in a practical and clinically relevant manner. You also want a course that will position you for a successful transition into your role as an advanced practice nurse. This course covers content from the AACN and the ANA certification test plans. Clinical applications, practice pearls, case examples, and practice questions will be used to engage you in learning and expand your critical thinking. You will validate and enhance your knowledge as your focus on final exam preparation.
